NIAGARA FALLS REVIEW
Thursday, November 8, 2012

New hospital tough sell

It's many, many millions of dollars that we'd be looking to the community to contribute to the hospital, and if we don't have assurances that the community is there, that makes it more difficult.

Ontario Health Minister Deb Matthews

Congressional gridlock threatens economy: Flaherty

Flaherty flagged concerns Wednesday about the ability of the fiscal cliff the U.S. is headed to in January. If not addressed in time and the combination of tax hikes and spending cuts kick in, the United States would fall into recession and Canada would follow, Flaherty said.

Related stories: Four more years for Obama, Flaherty said

MIKE DIBATTISTA Niagara Falls Review

Economic Summit in Niagara-ers Wednesday at the Ontario Municipal Building in Niagara Falls. Matthews said Ontario municipalities to pitch in and fund raise for new hospitals.

“[It’s] many, many millions of dollars that we’d be looking to the community to contribute to the hospital, and if we don’t have assurances that the community is there, that makes it more difficult.”

Ontario Health Minister Deb Matthews

Deadmau5
Mouse will roar on New Year’s Eve

Today’s weather

Page C13
High 5C, Low 1C

PAGE A5

Deadmau5

High 5C, Low 1C

PAGE A5

Deadmau5

High 5C, Low 1C

PAGE A5